Thank you for the opportunity to provide you with additional information for our Moisture Analyzers. We understand this decision is important to you and your company when making an investment of this nature.

When you purchase our equipment you will not only purchase an analyzer that provides the most accurate and precise result but you will be purchasing equipment from a company that is going to become your partner in moisture analysis. We build long business relationships with our customers and have a full staff of Chemists, Field Service Techs and Customer Service Reps to assist with your needs. Our customer service is second to none. We are committed to earning your business and going above and beyond to ensure you are satisfied.

You will find many different companies advertising moisture analysis equipment. Some of this seems to be very inexpensive but in reality that equipment will not provide an accurate answer for the Plastic Industry.

All of our equipment comes to you with full factory calibrations. We will program the analyzer with our ASTM settings so you will always have the appropriate material programs for your resin. Our ASTM methods are D7191-05 and D6980-04.

We have been in business for over 30 years providing top quality equipment and service to our customers.
